

CENTER FOR SENSORIMOTOR NEURAL ENGINEERING

Improving lives by connecting brains and technology

March, 2016

Awards

- Judy Illes (CSNE member, University of British Columbia) became the third president of the International Neuroethics Society on January 28, 2016.

Upcoming Seminars, Lectures, Courses, Conferences

- Graduate Certificate: Graduate students at the University of Washington can now enroll in the Graduate Certificate Program in Neural Computation and Engineering. For details and enrollment into the program, see: <http://www.csne-erc.org/education-graduate/graduate-certificate-neural-computation-and-engineering>
- New Course: Neural Computation and Engineering Laboratory (BIOEN 466, NBIO 405) is a new lab class at the University of Washington that will be offered for the first time during Spring Quarter, 2016. The course is designed for students in engineering or applied math who want to study computational neuroscience and/or neural engineering. Registration is by permission of instructor, Dr. Lise Johnson; see: <https://catalyst.uw.edu/collectit/dropbox/liseaj/37464>
- Seminar: University of Washington Bioengineering Faculty Candidate Seminar, Dr. Amy Orsborn, Postdoctoral Researcher, New York University, "Dissecting Learning and Control in Brain- Machine Interfaces," Thursday, March 3, 2016, 12:30pm, Foege N130.
- Seminar: University of Washington Bioengineering Faculty Candidate Seminar, Dr. Azadeh Yazdan-Shahmorad, Postdoctoral Scholar, University of California, San Francisco, "A Large Scale Interface for Optogenetics in Non- human Primates with Application to Sensorimotor Cortical Plasticity," Thursday, March 10, 2016, 12:30pm, Foege N130.
- Seminar: The UW Institute for Neuroengineering presents Dr. Jeff Riffell, Associate Professor, Department of Biology, University of Washington, "Odor encoding as a dynamical process: Experiments and computation," Wednesday, March 9, 2016, 3:30pm, Physics/Astronomy Auditorium A110.
- Workshop: IEEE SMC 2016's 6th Workshop on Brain-Machine Interface Systems; October 9-12, 2016, Budapest, Hungary: http://go.epfl.ch/smc2016_bmi
